Team KMS,

In just a few short days we'll close shop for a few days so that our students and staff can pause to give thanks, rest with family, probably eat too much, and recharge our batteries. That's right, we are less than one week away from Thanksgiving break and with this comes our 3rd and final installment of our series, 4 weeks of thanks. The true final installment comes via a challenge from me to you. I challenge you to pause to express thanks to your kids, your spouses, friends, your family, or even the family pet. To kick off the spirit of verbal thanks and recognition, Ms. D'Angelo and I recorded and uploaded the latest Between 2 Knights (B2K) Podcast. In this week's episode we give thanks, we share family traditions, we laugh, we tell stories, and we acknowledge that the holiday season can be stressful. Perhaps I am a wee bit partial, but I think you will find the time you carve out of your day to listen in will be well worth your time...but...before you do..

CLICK ME to check out the latest bi-weekly newsletter. Inside you will find details about:

- Nov 27-29: No School
- Dec. 6: Winter Band Concert
- Dec. 12: Student Council Movie Night
- Dec. 13: No School
- PTSA and student club information

Now, time for the B2K Podcast, but with a disclaimer...thank you in advance for enduring our journey as we navigate using a new form of communication. Yep, next month we'll have some new microphones to help improve the audio.

Have a great close out to your week!

Jason
